

Full-time IB tutoring position in Milan

Location: Milan
Industry: Education
Job Level: Graduate
Hours: 80 – 120 hours/month
Contract: Minimum 1 academic year (September – June), ideally 2 years
Level: Undergraduate degree; Qualified teacher Status/Postgraduate degree desirable

Are you a dynamic, highly experienced and professional IB teacher/tutor interested in relocating to Milan to provide full-time private support an Italian IB student?

Role

The student is starting her IB course in Milan and would like support after school and during the holidays primarily related to:

- Academic IB subjects: Biology HL, English HL, Spanish HL, Psychology SL, History SL, Mathematics SL. It is not necessary for the tutor to be experienced with all these subjects, but strong support in Biology, English, History and Maths will be needed, along with an academically excellent background.
- SEN support: the student has been diagnosed with dyslexia, dysorthographia, dysgraphia and dyscalculia. The tutor must have strong experience working with dyslexia and dyscalculia and preferably be qualified in this area.
- Learning techniques: helping the student to organise, memorize and retain information, especially in Maths
- IB logistics: help the student to balance her IB subjects and meet the organisational demands of the course.
- Personal organisation and discipline: helping to instil strong independent work and organisational habits, so that she is able to work independently at university
- Personal wellbeing: there is an element of mentorship to this placement, and the tutor should be sensitive to the student's personal situation and needs and offer guidance to her as a developing young lady finding her feet in the world.

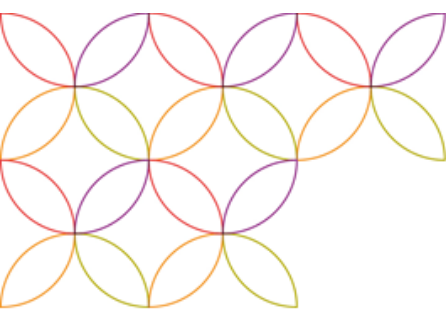

Tuition will be intensive in the evenings after school and possibly on the weekends. The arrangement is flexible, and the tutor should adapt to changes throughout the year.

Rewards

Competitive salary for 80-120 hours tutoring per month.

Travel to Italy and between Milan and Verona, and accommodation in Milan and Verona included.

Car inclusion tbc.

About you

Professional teaching/tutoring experience: the position requires a highly organised tutor with 5+ years' experience teaching students at IB/A-Level and delivering consistently high results for students. Strong IB experience is mandatory and understanding of the IB system and curriculum.

Personal skills: you must be dynamic and strongly empathetic to the human needs of your student outside the academics and adjust your work accordingly.

Academic skills: An excellent degree from a prestigious university (Oxbridge preferred) is mandatory. Strong academic record and ability to teach both Arts and Science (Biology) subjects. A-Level/IB specialisations and teaching experience required.

You must have 'found your voice' as a teacher and developed a distinctive teaching style that you are able to articulate and discuss. We would like to know how you developed this style and how you tailor it to different students.

Filter Questions

Do you have an Undergraduate degree?

Are you a qualified teacher (QTS) and/or do you have three or more years' of tutoring/teaching experience?

What has been your most challenging teaching experience?

Describe your most interesting student.

What is distinctive about how you tutor?

